

Ashland English 100 Midterm Instructions

In-Class Mid-Term Test

The midterm test will be a short essay which you will write in class. It will be marked according to the grade sheet which will be used for the Qualifying Essay, so you can have some idea how your writing skills are progressing. Here are the basic rules:

- Date: Wednesday, October 17
- All writing will be done in class. The final copy is due by the end of the class session. This is not a take-home.
- Though I encourage you to use a computer, you may submit a handwritten copy.
- The actual assignment will be distributed on the day of the test.
- This test will be worth 25 points.

Please note: Because this test will be entirely conducted within one class session, those of you who have been depending on significant outside help will have to do this one on your own. This is your early warning! Learn to write your own material!
